

Parents : 10 tips to protect our children's privacy on social networks

Tip 1 : Find out about social networks beforehand Before letting your children sign up to a social network, find out all you can about it so that you know the advantages and dangers, the different functions it offers and what's at stake. You can then help your children choose the one or ones that is/are right for them. It's always easier to talk about things you know.

To continue reading, you can download the factsheet here