

I test my site

Section dedicated exclusively to Data Protection Officers registered with the APDP

The APDP provides registered Data Protection Officers (DPO) with a website security analysis tool, « Je teste mon site » (I test my website), to enable them to detect, in just a few minutes and anonymously, certain vulnerabilities in the website(s) of the entity they represent.

The tests carried out are not exhaustive and do not claim to provide an absolute guarantee of compliance and/or the absence of vulnerabilities. Nevertheless, they offer representative coverage of certain threats, enabling the entities concerned to strengthen the protection of their web environment(s) through recommendations tailored to the risks encountered.

For more information about the tool, please refer to the user guide (available in French only).

To register, you must complete the registration form.

Once your registration has been validated by the APDP, you can use the tool by clicking here.
